After 2 years of trying to find answers, Jamie was diagnosed with Stage 3 Hodgkins Lymphoma in August. He has since started his Chemo journey and has a rough road ahead of him.

Being the sole provider for his family, this is evidently putting a strain on them. His wife Amber is his rock and is focusing on everything that he needs.

He has a teenage son and two young daughters.

Family and friends are everything to him, as he is our world as well!
